

What is Ready to Work?

Ready to Work is a free eight-week job training program. Participants build the skills required for employment with most businesses and industries.

Successful completion of the program results in an Alabama Certified Worker Certificate and a State of Alabama Career Readiness Certificate.

The Ready to Work curriculum and materials are developed by Alabama Industrial Development Training (AIDT).

Students who successfully complete the Ready to Work program will also receive one free for-credit course at Wallace Community College.
