Upward Bound Students Attend PACE Speech Competition

On February 16, Upward Bound (UB) spent the evening in Dothan, Alabama at the PACE (Proclaiming America's Call for Equality) event, "Freedom Speaks: The Call of Lincoln and King Speech Competition." They heard ten area high school students recite either Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s I Have A Dream speech or President Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. The speeches were brought to life by each student's rendition and dramatization. The Upward Bound students enjoyed the speeches and the meal which followed at the Red Elephant. Upward Bound serves students from four area high schools: Abbeville, Barbour County, Bullock County, and Eufaula.

February is Black History Month

Black History Month, or National African American History Month, is an annual celebration of achievements by black Americans and a time for recognizing the central role of African Americans in U.S. history. The event grew out of "Negro History Week," the brainchild of noted historian Carter G. Woodson and other prominent African Americans. Since 1976, every U.S. president has officially designated the month of February as Black History Month. Other countries around the world, including Canada and the United Kingdom, also devote a month to celebrating black history.
